Several very fine duets were given by the brothers, 'Eggleston', 'Watchman, what of the night,' and 'The Long, Long Trail,' all of which were encored. One of the outstanding solos of the evening was the 'Marsellaise,' which was sung with stirring effect.

British Machine Was Shot to Pieces

One Evidence of Nature of the Fighting in Cambrai Region

The nature of the fighting in the Cambrai region can be seen from the experience of a British pilot whose machine was literally shot to pieces by rifle and machine gun fire and who finally crashed down behind his own lines with ten bullet holes through his clothing, although he himself was unhurt. Another young aviator presented himself at headquarters after having been shot down for the third time within two days. He was delighted over his experience and immediately applied for another machine so that he might go out again.

One aviator attacked a column of German infantry marching in close formation and hurled two high-powered bombs directly among them. The troops scattered and the aviator whirled away he saw two heaps of dead and huge craters in the air.

It was more than once that German aircraft successfully bombing aircrews. A large number of artillery crews, engaged on either side of the machine gun fire at close range or by bombs.

SERIOUS ILLNESS AVOIDED

Many a serious illness has been averted by the prompt use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills act directly and quickly on the blood, and in this way build up the system, tone and strengthen the nerves, and invigorate the vital organs. Frequent attacks of general weakness, nervousness, and other ailments that have been neglected, therefore any thinness of the blood should be looked upon as a warning sign, and more serious illness should be avoided by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In the case of young girls and women the blood is particularly liable to get out of order—to become thin and pale—and this leads to a general breakdown in health. This can be avoided by the occasional use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which are suitable for the most delicate constitution.

These pills will give you a new appetite, improve your digestion, and strengthen your system. They banish depression and lack of energy, clear the complexion of pimples and blotches, cure pain in the back and general weakness, cause the disappearance of headaches, dizziness and heart fluttering.

THE VALUE OF SKIMMED MILK

In Some Cases More Valuable Than Whole Milk

Many people do not know the value of skimmed milk. While it has no fat which is removed in cream, it has all the protein contents, and as protein is absolutely necessary for growing children, there is a lot of food that can be given that is better than skimmed milk.

It is best of all for the kiddies when given as a drink. It is also valuable in cottage cheese. The manner of making this is very simple. The milk should be heated for four hours and should then be heated over water so that the curd will tender when the whey begins to separate from the curd.

The whey should be put into cheese cloth and allowed to drain until it is very strong, skimmed milk, and a little salt should be added and the cheese is ready to eat.

It can be served either with milk and sugar or with salad dressing and eaten along with bread and butter.

For children whose digestion is not very strong, skimmed milk is much more valuable than the whole milk, as it is easier on the stomach and is apt to curdle in the stomach and in the bowels with normal digestion.

Skimmed milk furnishes about half the fat of whole milk, but the fat contents of the fat contents.

Setting a Good Example

What the C.P.R. Is Doing in Direction of Food Conservation

Nothing that the C.P.R. has done in the direction of food conservation has resulted in so many letters of commendation as the footnote printed on all railway cars and on dining cars and hotels. This reads: "In the interest of food conservation, young lambs, little chickens, piglets, and other products are not used in the C.P.R. service."

The editor of a prominent mining journal says in a leading article: "It must have required some grit, as well as a full sense of duty, to institute such an institution which includes such a large number of products as are found on that railway, to put such a moral burden on the shoulders of those who have read the note."

Those who have read the note, however, have been quick to respond. The good example of the railway, and have given up purchasing any of the products of the animals it would be another means of food economy."

New Year Hints

Defined.

Dad, what is a gentleman farmer?

A gentleman farmer, my boy, is one who seldom raises anything more than his hat.

Oyen Merchants Notice.

He was running a small provision store in a newly developed district and the big wholesale dealers found him very backward in payment of his account.

They sent him letter after letter, each more politely threatening than the last. Finally they sent their representative down to give him a sporting chance.

'Now,' said the caller, 'We must have a settlement. Why haven't you sent us anything? Are things going badly?'

'No. Everything's going fine. You needn't worry. My bankers will guarantee me alright.'

'Then why haven't you paid up?'

'Well you see, those threatening letters of yours were so well done that I've been copying them out and sending them round to a few customers of my own who want pay up, and I've collected nearly all outstanding debts. I was only holding back because I felt sure there must be a final letter, and I wanted to get the series complete.'

Do not spend so much time in getting a living that you will have no time to live.

Give, give, be always giving, For he who gives not is not living.

To opt cost we know it. We haven't the price of a drink, I mean, a smoke, in the office.

Overdue Subscriptions to this paper will be thankfully received, and acknowledged by the staff.

An Hereditary Passion

McTavish was a junior Scot,
But all the feelings he had got
From Dad, who owned the hillside green,
Not many miles from Aberdeen.

Mac did not wear the kilt, not he,
Nor play the bagpipes gay and free,
But how his eyes with joy would light
At any Caledonian sight.

When but a boy he read with care
The Douglas deeds so fine and rare,
How nobly he behaved in battle,
How well he pinched his neighbours' cattle.

He knew each tender Scottish song,
On William Wallace he was strong,
'And said the English should be booted
For having bill electrocuted.

Likewise the Bruce had warmed his heart,
He always took Queen Mary's part,
Endorsed the Stuart's god-given right,
He was an ardent Jacobite.

He knew the words of Robert Burns,
Which every junior Scotsman learns,
While Walter Scott inflamed his breast,
And strained the tendons of his chest.

McTavish had a sweetheart fair,
He thought her beautiful and rare,
She whispered "Yes" one happy day,
His face was bright, his soul was gay.

He bought a house; the time was set
When rice and roses he would get.
The invitations went, and then
Mac was the happiest of men.

The morn arrived, the happy morn,
When he, the bachelor forlorn,
Should seek the Presbyterian church,
And hear the preacher in his perch.

Pronounce the words. But what a fright!
McTavish did not leave in sight
When they expected him. Ah! me,
Where could the foolish fellow be?

They searched the town, the Chph, the street,
They looked for traces of his feet,
But all in vain, till one did think
Of seeking in the Curling Rink.

And there the wretch, with broom in hand,
Was "Soooping up" to beat the band.
The frost was hard, the ice was keen,
Mac had forgot the bride, I ween.

Appeals for greater feed supplies for our armies are usually directed to the farmers. The duty rests as heavily upon the residents of towns and cities. The export of a country are not measured by the amounts produced, but by the amounts that are not consumed. If the country will produce and the towns refrain from consuming, there is no danger of our armies being underfed.

The appeal is to both, because a heavy duty rests upon both. Will they discharge it?

The following selected quarters, most of which are in this immediate district are for sale on exceptionally easy terms:

United States and Canada may Pool Food Supply.

Ottawa, Jan. 7.—No authoritative announcement is yet available as to any plan which may be considered to pool the food resources of the Dominion and the United States for the benefit of the Allies. The suggestion has been made in Washington dispatches that action along this line should be taken and the matter is one that will engage the attention of the war committee of the cabinet of which Hon. N. W. Rowell is the president, an early date. No concrete proposal or proposals has yet been formulated either at Washington or the Dominion capital, but the increasing necessities of the Allies as indicated in recent advices received by the food controller from Europe, make apparent the desirability for joint action by the two governments having under their control the biggest supplies of food within reasonable distance of Great Britain, France and Italy.
